Dear Dr

Thank you for asking me to see this 47 yo Canadian engineer with a possible symptomatic pineal cyst.

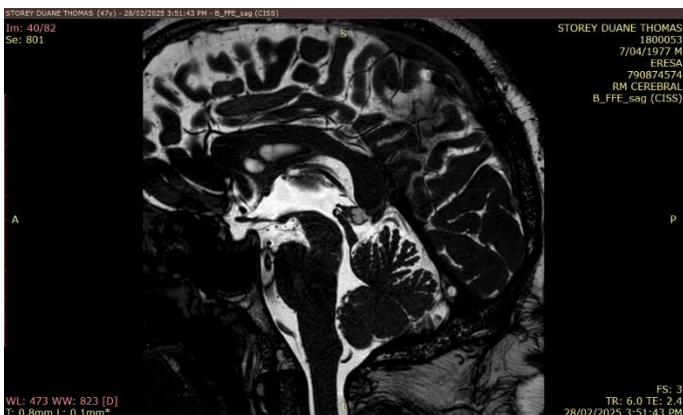

In 2021 his symptoms began 1 week after the Covid vaccine and consisted of visual disturbance and vertigo. Since then, he has experienced a single episode of psychosis and muscle spasms. The visual disturbance and the vertigo persist. He has also experienced intermittent, insomnia, numbness, headaches, nausea, periods of confusion and persistent vertigo.

He provided a detailed summary of his disease course which is filed.

His pineal cyst is small and not causing any aqueduct stenosis. It may be causing a degree of venous obstruction but there are no T2 changes in the midline structures.

My working diagnosis is post-encephalitis secondary to the Covid vaccine, although venous hypertension from the pineal cyst is a remote possibility.

He may be a good candidate for focused TMS.

Mid-sagittal C.I.S.S. sequence showing NO aqueduct stenosis.

Magnified views of the pineal recess and possible compression of the right internal cerebral vein. This has been suggested by some, as a potential cause of the mixed symptoms of a small pineal cyst.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink, consisting of a series of loops and strokes, positioned above the printed name.
